

Answer the following questions to see how well you know your Renaissance individuals.

1. Who would you most like with you in a battlefield situation?

- a) Vesalius
- b) Paré
- c) Harvey

2. Who would you most like to teach your art lesson?

- a) Vesalius
- b) Paré
- c) Harvey

3. Which Renaissance man would you trust the most to operate on your heart?

- a) Harvey
- b) Vesalius
- c) Paré

4. Who was the most experienced dissector of human bodies?

- a) Vesalius
- b) Harvey
- c) Paré

5. Who was the most likely to use turpentine in his work?

- a) Paré
- b) Vesalius
- c) Harvey

6. Who would you trust the most to help you if you broke your leg?

- a) Paré
- b) Harvey
- c) Vesalius

7. Who provided the biggest challenge to Galen's ideas?

- a) Vesalius
- b) Harvey
- c) Paré

8. Who was the most likely to prevent a person from bleeding to death?

- a) Paré
- b) Harvey
- c) Vesalius

9. To which individual was war an important factor in their discoveries?

- a) Paré
- b) Harvey
- c) Vesalius

10. For who was the printing press the most important to their success?

- a) Vesalius
- b) Harvey
- c) Paré

11. Who was the most advanced anatomist?

- a) Vesalius
- b) Harvey
- c) Paré

Suggested answers (some may be debateable!)

1. Who would you most like with you in a battlefield situation?
Pare – he was an experienced army surgeon.
2. Who would you most like to teach your art lesson?
Vesalius – he spent much of his time producing detailed sketches of the human body.
3. Which Renaissance man would you most trust to operate on your heart?
Harvey – his most important discovery was that the heart is a pump.
4. Who was the most experienced dissector of human bodies?
Vesalius – he taught his students by demonstrating dissection.
5. Who was the most likely to use turpentine in his work?
Pare – he mixed it with rose oil and egg yolks to apply to wounds.
6. Who would you trust the most to help you if you broke your leg?
Pare – he was very experienced on the battlefield.
7. Who provided the biggest challenge to Galen's ideas?
Vesalius – he was the first individual to openly reveal that many of Galen's ideas about the human body were based on animal dissection.
8. Who was the most likely to prevent a person from bleeding to death?
Pare – he invented ligatures as an alternative to cauterisation.
9. For which individual was war an important factor in their discoveries?
Pare – he developed his ideas at war.
10. For who was the printing press the most important to their success?
Vesalius – his Fabric of the Human Body was printed and distributed widely using the printing press.
11. Who was the most advanced anatomist?
Vesalius – he began dissecting human bodies as a child!