

What were the consequences of the Berlin Wall?

Showed how bad relations were. Things were now so bad the Soviets had to build a wall to divide Berlin.	With Berlin divided, there was less chance that the US and Soviets would go to war over Berlin.	The Americans complained bitterly, but Kennedy said a wall was better than a war.
The Berlin Wall became a powerful symbol of the differences between the East and West for almost 30 years.	It reminded people of Churchill's 1946 'Iron Curtain speech' - the two sides could not agree.	It was clear that there would be two Germanys for the foreseeable future.

Showed how bad relations were. Things were now so bad the Soviets had to build a wall to divide Berlin.	With Berlin divided, there was less chance that the US and Soviets would go to war over Berlin.	The Americans complained bitterly, but Kennedy said a wall was better than a war.
The Berlin Wall became a powerful symbol of the differences between the East and West for almost 30 years.	It reminded people of Churchill's 1946 'Iron Curtain speech' - the two sides could not agree.	It was clear that there would be two Germanys for the foreseeable future.

Showed how bad relations were. Things were now so bad the Soviets had to build a wall to divide Berlin.	With Berlin divided, there was less chance that the US and Soviets would go to war over Berlin.	The Americans complained bitterly, but Kennedy said a wall was better than a war.
The Berlin Wall became a powerful symbol of the differences between the East and West for almost 30 years.	It reminded people of Churchill's 1946 'Iron Curtain speech' - the two sides could not agree.	It was clear that there would be two Germanys for the foreseeable future.

Showed how bad relations were. Things were now so bad the Soviets had to build a wall to divide Berlin.	With Berlin divided, there was less chance that the US and Soviets would go to war over Berlin.	The Americans complained bitterly, but Kennedy said a wall was better than a war.
The Berlin Wall became a powerful symbol of the differences between the East and West for almost 30 years.	It reminded people of Churchill's 1946 'Iron Curtain speech' - the two sides could not agree.	It was clear that there would be two Germanys for the foreseeable future.